A record second quarter

In Q2 2012, Esker achieved its second best quarter in company history with sales revenue increasing 13% — based on a current exchange rate and 5% based on a fixed rate — over a strong Q2 2011 (+10%). These excellent results, attained in an imperfect economic climate, can largely be attributed to the success of Esker's document process automation solutions (+11%) as well as the shrinking gap between the euro and the U.S. dollar.

Cloud-based solutions still climbing

During economic downswings, companies will often abandon their traditional software license projects or, at best, put them on hold. Cloud-based solutions require less capital and offer a faster return on investment. Esker on-demand solutions (i.e., FlyDoc and Esker on Demand) grew at a steady rate (+27%), representing over half of the company's activity this quarter (54%). Cloud-based solutions alone grew by over 1.3 million euros in Q2 2012, and new cloud computing contracts have continued to grow since 2011, despite a sluggish economy. This continued success positions Esker to achieve sustainable and profitable growth throughout the upcoming years.

A profitable first half

Strong sales in the first half of 2012, coupled with rigorous spending controls and a significant increase in the U.S. dollar, will enable Esker to realise an increase in operating income over the same period in 2011. As of June 30, 2012, company cash rests at over 10.9 million euros (versus 8.7 million euros on June 30, 2011, after dividend payment (552k euros)).

Positive outlook for 2012

Factors such as recurring revenue (over 70%), the persistent rate at which Esker continues to sign new contracts, and a stronger U.S. dollar will be instrumental in achieving growth of 10% over the course of 2012 — a trend confirmed by the excellent results of this first half of the year.
